

PEAK PERFORMANCE POLICE TRAINING

Ethics and Professionalism course brief

Now more than ever our Police Officers should strive to meet the professional service needs of communities they serve by using the three I's of Policing (Intelligence, Integrity and Interaction skills).

This 8-hour course will Explain the generally accepted ethical and professional responsibilities of peace officers and list external and internal influences on those behaviors. We will explain the Continuum of Compromise, as well as explain the steps in the decision making model and the application of PLUS filters.

This course is informative, interactive and scenario based. This instructor lead audio and video presentation is used to teach all levels of policing from rookie to veteran.

Course taught by Prof. Douglas Miller
Deputy Chief (Ret), MSCJ
